

2021 Global Forum on Sustainable Fisheries Development

——Fisheries Trade Development Summit and the 4th International Forum on Aquaculture for Silk Road Countries

Fisheries is an important part of agriculture and rural economy. Over the past 70 years, since the founding of the People's Republic of China, China's fisheries have witnessed historic changes with great achievements, attracting worldwide attention. Meanwhile we have offered Chinese wisdom and Chinese plans to the development of world fisheries. In order to strengthen international exchanges and cooperation in aquatic trade, promote high-quality development of fisheries, exchange and disseminate advanced concepts, technologies and models of aquaculture in the Silk Road countries, and promote the health and sustainable development of global fisheries, 2021 Global Forum on Sustainable Fisheries Development, Fisheries Trade Development Summit and the 4th International Forum on Aquaculture for Silk Road Countries will be held during the 25th China International Fisheries Expo.
